ABOUT US

LLOYD AND NATOSHA JONES

Lloyd and Natosha Jones are comic book creators based in Metro Atlanta. Both grew up blerds, with a lifelong love of comics, video games, anime/manga, and sci-fi, leading them both to have a love of writing. So, they founded Midnight Comics, an indie comic book company in Metro Atlanta that creates both manga style AND western style comics. As of now, Midnight Comics has created a total of 8 original titles, as well as writing for other indie creators, and creating a story for the Clayton County Water Authority to teach the danger of F.O.G.s in our drains. They look forward to inspiring future generations, including their own three children, niece, and nephews by allowing them to see themselves in media, see characters that defy stereotypes, and create their own characters, making Midnight Comics a true family run business.

ABOUT

Midnight Comics tells authentic stories across several genres, while showcasing compelling Black leads in stories that are character driven.
